

URGENT!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 21, 2007

*Media contact: Ms. Terry Schommer
845-782-7015 / WCMpress@frontiernet.net*

March 18 Concert RESCHEDULED

The Weekend of Chamber Music concert that was cancelled due to snow last Sunday (March 18) has been rescheduled to April 1 at 3pm, at Big Twig Studio in Roscoe.

Additionally, the new date coincides with the Musician's Alliance for Peace annual "Music for Peace Project," a global effort "to fill the world with music as a call for peace." WCM joins the roster of concerts participating around the world, and will help promote this vision with its Sunday at Big Twig series program.

Since violinist Curtis Macomber is unable to perform on this date, violinist Sunghae Anna Lim will take his place with the contemplative Fauré Violin Sonata. She, flutist Judith Pearce and pianist Marija Stroke will perform music by Bach, Handel and Kummer in a program of trios, duos & solos. A meet-the-artists reception follows the concert.

Tickets are $18 general admission, payable by cash or check only at the door. Admission is always free for students 18 and under.

For more information, call 845-932-8527, or 718-698-8962. Online at WCMconcerts.org.

– 30 –

The Music for Peace Project

The Music for Peace Project 2007 is a global effort to fill the world with music as a call for peace. By coordinating a vast number of concerts worldwide between March 30 - April 1, 2007, The Music for Peace Project will bring popular and media attention to international peace efforts while building a global community of active, socially conscious artists. Dedicated to cultivating peace as both a means and an end, The Music for Peace Project creates a global celebration of peace and provides a voice for the vibrant community that believes in peaceful solutions for the future. Any musician can participate.

Over the last three years, the Musicians' Alliance for Peace has sponsored over 350 concerts in 30 countries in the course of three 3-day weekends. This international, non-partisan call for peace was shared with audiences as diverse as the music itself.

Music has the power to inspire compassion and foster understanding between cultures while deepening the bonds that form our communities. Together, all musicians participating in The Music for Peace Project are helping to create a global community of musicians that cannot be ignored.

"Be the change you want to see in the world." –Gandhi.

The Music for Peace Project: www.m4p.org

Weekend of Chamber Music is a 501(c)3 non-profit, whose concerts are sponsored in part by funding from the New York State Council on the Arts, a State agency.

