JEFFERSONVILLE – More than 100 people attended “In the Company of Mozart” yesterday at Weekend of Chamber Music’s opening day concert of its 13th summer music festival. Blue skies and gentle breezes prevailed in the town on Sunday as Judith Pearce presented eight of her colleagues in an all-Mozart concert, presided over by the composer himself, resurrected especially for the occasion. Others “keeping company” with Mozart on a beautiful July day were Assemblywoman Aileen Gunther, who honored WCM with a NYS Assembly Resolution for its educational and cultural contributions to the county; Jeffersonville Chamber of Commerce President Greg Brooks, County Executive Chris Cunningham and Alyssa Adams, the presenting sponsor for this year’s festival.
